GOOD FOR HIM AND HIS WIFE

Hurley J. Watkins, 2105 St. Louisville, Ky., writes: "I found Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills just as good for my wife and my colds. This famous old cough medicine is just as good for children as for adults. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, and sore throat. It keeps the throat cool and moist, and it cures all the ailments of the throat and lungs. It is a sure and reliable remedy. See it at your drug store."

Mrs. Medora B. Burnham, wife of Calvin Burnham, died Thursday at her home in Clark Corner, William. She was born March 11, 1852, in Danvers, N. Y., the daughter of William H. and Mary E. Fields Richardson. Surviving her husband are two sons, Marvin E. of Hallowell, Me., and Otto C. of Danvers, N. Y.; a daughter, Mrs. Ida H. White of Webster, Mass., and a sister, Mrs. J. E. Westman of Chaplin, and one brother, William R. Richardson of Long Island.

When Norwich Free Academy sends her football warriors to this city today (Saturday) to play the visitors, the Windham High, Willimantic football enthusiasts will have an opportunity to witness the first football game of the season at Recreation park. During the past few years Windham has proved herself to be a match for the Norwich boys, on one occasion winning by a score of 25 to 0. Following this game, the Windham boys held Norwich to a scoreless tie on the second game. Both elevens have been practicing hard for this game. Coach "Buck" Donohue has been putting his boys through their paces this week, the mile run at the end of scrimmage adding much to the wind of the boys on the eleven. Windham expects to win from Norwich and from the other teams, as the game is evenly matched and a fast game is anticipated.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

TO SPEAK IN NORWICH

The Brotherhood of the United Congregational church has secured Dr. S. Parker Cadman to speak to Norwich people on an all-important topic, The Re-Created World, at the Community House on Oct. 18.

Dr. Cadman is generally considered as one of the most able orators in the English-speaking world and has been pastor of the Central Congregational church of Brooklyn for the last 29 years. Dr. Cadman spent 19 years of his youth in an English coal mine swinging a pick, later preparing for the ministry and coming to America. He started his ministerial career in a sleepy country parish where he quickly achieved a national reputation for force, brilliancy and an astounding range of intellect. His present parish constitutes one of the most important Protestant congregations in America.

Dr. Cadman has delivered several thousand lectures and addresses, served as chaplain to a regiment of infantry, written several books, two of which are recognized authorities on their subjects, and has a batch of degrees from first class universities, and turned down the offer to become president of a prominent eastern college.

Breed Theatre

"Stop Thief! Leave me my diamonds!" That will be your speech, if you see smiling Tom Moore at the Breed theatre today in his newest comedy, based on the famous farce, "Stop Thief!" The combination of star and comedy is a veritable thief of laughter in that you will laugh until your diaphragm is so sore you can't laugh any more.

In a wholesome farce that will please every taste from grandmother to little Johnny. A farcical tale appears to be the most perfect of all comedies, and his sweetheart pleads that the robbery of the wedding presents was to have been their last "haunt" before marrying and becoming respectable members of society. All the love is restored and they are forgiven—and married—but oh! how the fun that is unrolled first! Elaine Hamilton is a scolar. Through the death of a model, he becomes the murderer of a baby girl. A misunderstanding causes a great feud between the two families. And later Claudia, his ward, grows into a beautiful woman, and he discovers that his heart is not broken, just bruised.

Elmer Lincoln, who was here in "Part of the Ages" and "The Romance of Tarran" will also be seen in the first episode of the "The Prince Chap." This chapter is titled "The Week of the Romans" and shows a tremendous shipwreck at sea; a great forest fire; an auto hurled over a cliff and a thousand other thrills.

The Prince Chap. and a Century comedy complete the bill for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

THE FEELS TEN YEARS YOUNGER

EDITORIAL WILL PREACH

AT CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. William B. Oliver, editor of the Daily Bulletin will preach at the Central Baptist church Sunday morning, October 11th.

Mr. Oliver is no stranger to the Norwich people, for he has spoken in this city before. Mr. Oliver is a preacher and lecturer of some note. He comes with a message.

The evening sermon is the second in a series of sermons on "The Value of the Word." There will be a benediction service following the Sunday evening service.

Electricity for the Farmer

What is a farmer's time worth? What is he worth an hour? Does he charge his business—the business of farming—with the value of the time he gives to it? And does he know how much time he is giving to executive work and productive labor and how much to non-productive work? The farmer who is not giving these things a little thought is not in the front rank of those who are making the most of their time. The average gross income from a farm of one hundred and fifty acres, will be something over $2,000.

To make every one of these 40 hours productive of its share of profit, it is necessary to reduce the expenses of the farm to the minimum and in farming as in manufacturing it has been found that the best way to do this is to use labor-saving machinery. The small electric light and power plants now in use on so many farms accomplish a lot of this labor saving. Instead of spending hours of time in carrying water for stock and for all household purposes the modern farm family has an electric pumping system installed, which does all the work of carrying water for stock and for all household purposes the modern farm family has an electric pumping system installed, which does all the work of carrying water for stock and for all household purposes.

At the Breed Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

Delightful and intimate insights into London's famous artist colony are given, along with an unusual production of "The Prince Chap," the photoplay attraction at the Breed theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Miller's screen production of "Edward Peep's" well known play of the same name.

This is the vehicle which Cyril Scott used on the stage for several seasons with singular success. The role of the sentimental hero has found a worthy successor in Thomas Melville.

"The Prince Chap" is the story of William Peyton, sculptor. In love with a beautiful woman, he has a hard time of it. He is a sculptor.
